

PROFILE | 2019

Bill Brooks, PE

Aviation Leader Southeast Division
Vice President
HNTB Corporation

Bill Brooks is vice president and aviation practice leader of the Southeast Division. HNTB serves aviation clients in Orlando, Tampa and Miami, Florida, as well as other southeastern states.

Currently, Brooks is the senior program director for Orlando International Airport's South Terminal C, Phases 1 and 2 design and construction program, valued over $3.8 billion. HNTB serves as architect of record on the project.

With diverse aviation industry experience in strategic, financial and master planning, design and construction program management, Brooks has been involved in more than $5 billion in airport construction projects in Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Virginia, and Kentucky as well as internationally in India, Puerto Rico, Bahamas and Philippines.

Active in community service, Brooks is a member of the national board of directors of the Children's Tumor Foundation, and a former mayor of the city of Belle Isle, Florida, where he served for 16 years. Active in the National League of Cities, he is a past member of its board of directors, and past chair of its Transportation Infrastructure Services Committee, for which he served as member of the National Transportation Policy and Revenue Study Commission's Blue Ribbon Panel of Transportation Experts. He also was appointed by former Florida Gov. Jeb Bush to the 2025 Florida Transportation Plan Steering Committee. He currently serves as founding chairman of the board of governors to the Cornerstone Charter Academy, a K-12 life sciences and biotechnology focused charter school of 1,400 students in the Orlando area.

Education

Bachelor's degree, civil engineering
– University of Alabama

Years of industry experience

35